

WEEKLY WHISPER SCRIPT

August 30, 2010

The house had been on the market about a month and had only shown 2-3 times when I was instructed by the Whisper to move and get settled before the fall, as much work was coming my way. So, I did!

My apartment is about one third the size of my house, so obviously I wouldn't need all of that furniture. Perfect, I thought, I'll leave it in there to stage the place like the professionals tell you to do.

Well, what good is staging a place if the house doesn't even show? One day while walking through the living room at my new apartment, a KNOWING washed through me (totally out of the blue) and I KNEW that I had to sell my furniture to get it out of the house BEFORE the house would sell. I flew into action to have a sale the following weekend. At the exact day and hour that the sale began, someone wanted to see the house. I declined the offer and asked them to reschedule. They came to view it the following day. To me, the house looked chaotic with disarray with sporadic left-over furnishings and artwork hung here and there and cobwebs where the refrigerator and couch used to be. There were lime green price tags on the left-over items. Hardly a showplace, I can tell you that!!! Despite that, the review on the house was fascinating. "The house showed beautifully despite the moving sale. The gentleman is going home to measure his boat to see if it will fit into the garage and is seriously going to consider giving an offer", said the showing agent. Just a few days later, the offer came.

Now, WHY did I need to get my furniture out of the house BEFORE it would sell? Why would doing the opposite of what professionals advise cause activity on the house? Infinite Wisdom made it clear to me (in the KNOWING that came through about getting the furniture out of the house) that my energy was in the furniture and that people could not see themselves living there. Even though, emotionally and energetically, I had let the house go, too much of me was still in the house.

So why did I do the opposite of what most people would do such as move before there was a contract on the house or empty the house of furnishings?

Infinite Wisdom knows what can't be known on the level of the intellect. It sees the past, present, and future and KNOWS your highest and best good. It knows your highest and best steps. When realtors tell you to stage your house, that is a general rule based upon their experience. That may be true most of the time, but not all of the time and not for everybody.

After I got most of the furniture out of the house, it occurred to me that I, myself, actually have a difficulty seeing my furnishings in a home that is already furnished. To me, a furnished house says that it is their house and not mine. Yet, that's not true for everyone.

So, that's the power of the Whisper's guidance. It's customized just for you! Your truth may not be the same as the masses. Trust yourself. You're always being guided and you are always on the right track, when following YOUR intrinsic wisdom!

I hope this weeks message inspires your to act on your inner promptings from Spirit.

P.S. Oh, people have asked me exactly how I found my apartment by doing an internet search. First, I wrote down what I wanted. Then I Googled 'townhouses' and 'apartments' and a list came up and I muscle tested for it. Testing said it was the third link from the top of the page. I clicked it and the page opened! Holy-Moly, I thought, when a photo of a kitchen with granite counter tops, stainless steel appliances, and hardwood floors is what I saw!!! Why guess when you can know? We do not have to use logic to find what we need or make our decisions when we tap in to what's available to use beyond the logical realm. Vanessa and I teach you how to do this in Your Essential Whisper and I teach you how to do this in Evo-K. If you haven't picked up your free audio on how to muscle test yourself, you can do so at HowToMuscleTestYourself.com

By for now!
